Dear Annie,

We are pleased to provide the responses to the questions you sent on Fairfield Sentry Ltd.:

1) Do this fund have multiple prime brokers?

More than 95% of the the assets of Fairfield Sentry Limited ("Sentry" or the "Fund") are deployed in the split-strike conversion strategy ("SSC") which is executed at a single broker/dealer Bernard L Madoff Investment Securities Limited ("BLM").

2) Is the fund facing difficulty getting credit lines? 3)How are the tighter margin requirements affecting the strategy? 4) How is the higher borrowing cost affecting performance?

The Fund does not employ any balance sheet leverage. The stock and T-Bill positions of the SSC (which comprise the great majority of assets invested in this strategy) are held in cash accounts at BLM. These cash accounts do not permit the use of borrowing, margin or lending.

We will be happy to provide further information if you have additional questions. Should you be interested in having a conference call with Amit Vijayvergiya, Partner and Chief Risk Officer for FG, please let us know and we will be glad to coordinate the call on your behalf.

Kind regards,

Dear Jacqueline,

Recently, there have been a lot of news on the credit squeeze and the effects on the brokerage business, including prime brokers.

- Do this fund have multiple prime brokers?
- Is the fund facing difficulty getting credit lines?
- How are the tighter margin requirements affecting the strategy?
- How is the higher borrowing cost affecting performance?

Regards,

Annie Cheung
